FROM THE

Anchor Club.

TO develope the cauſes which continue to confine this country to that tame and diſhonorable policy, which has marked all her tranſactions with France, is a taſk no leſs uſeful than difficult. To remedy an evil, it is firſt neceſſary to aſcertain the ſource whence that evil ſprings. In tracing this enquiry, the farther we advance, the ſtronger is our ground for alarm. Amongſt the moſt prominent of thoſe cauſes which have contributed to repreſs the ſpirit of America from riſing in arms againſt France, is undoubtedly to be ranked the intrigue and influence of that power amongſt ourſelves. That France had it in contemplation to reduce theſe ſtates under her dominion ſo early as the year 1756,—that ſhe at that time had agents in Philadelphia, in purſuance of that plan,—that ſhe commenced the war of 1778 againſt Great Britain, and ſent armies to America, with this expreſs view, are well eſtabliſhed facts. That this mad conception of her maddeſt ambition, was reſuſcitated and warmly cheriſhed by the eccentric projectors of the Revolution, is alſo authenticated by facts of general notoriety—by the miſſion and inſtructions of the incendiary, Genet, by the hiſtory of Fauchet, Randolph, and the Flour Merchants, by the Weſtern Inſurrection they produced, by the activity in that Inſurrection of the infamous Genevan, a man notoriouſly ſold to France, by the odd adventures of Adet and his train, by the appeal of the latter to the people, in which he exhorts them to aboliſh their government and cleave to France, by the labors of Lachaiſe, of Marcellac, of Volney, ———, ———, and the reſt of her numerous (or rather numberleſs) tribe of emiſſaries here.

Theſe are a few of the direct evidences of a ſyſtematized plan to reduce America under French domination. The collateral evidences are voluminous indeed. Whether we ſearch for them in public or in private walks,—whether we dive into the records of thoſe peſtiferous inſtruments of hers, the Democratic Societies, or exalt our view to the Areopagus of the country, on either and on every ſide, deep and damning circumſtances ſtare us in the face, and compel conviction. In the aſſiduous flatteries heaped on our great men, by public acts of the Revolutionizers, in their ſtatues of Franklin and of Jefferſon, and the apotheoſis of the former in the Heatheniſh Pantheon,—in their affected humility of conteding to America the honor of ſetting them an illuſtrious example, by her Revolution, we diſcover ramifications of the ſame ſyſtem, ſtill undeviatingly, though remotely purſued.

But in working out this grand deſign, an inſtrument more powerful, becauſe more extenſive and immediate in its operations, and more dangerous from the ſecrecy, art and addreſs, which it admitted in management, was found in the Preſs. Through this medium have her ſervants, in eight years, worked more corruption, deſtroyed more morality, and excited more ill-temper, than could have been effected by all her other means in a century. It is, in ſhort, chiefly by this means, that ſhe has reduced the country to its preſent ſtate; and by the manner in which ſhe has availed herſelf of that engine, no leſs than in the ſelection of it, has ſhe diſplayed a "ſkill" which our fortune alone has enabled us to countervail.

Preſſes hired by France, writers hired by France to ſupply thoſe preſſes with the fuel of ſedition, are of much longer ſtanding in America, than moſt people imagine. But the neceſſities of the revolution, called for the more regular and ſyſtematic employment of them. In the capital France had a printer, formally appointed and ſalaried: three "counſellors to the republic," received each 100 louis d'or, per ann. for furniſhing the literary ſtock of this imprimerie de la Republique. Since France commenced her depredations upon this country, the declamations iſſued from this polluted ſource, have uniformly dilated upon theſe two prominent points.—The power of France and the policy of peace. Every thing, ſaid theſe, ſhould be facrificed to peace. By yielding up part of our poſſeſſions, we retain the reſt along with peace: if we refuſe her demands, ſhe is all powerful, and will take the whole. The Pope (they inſtanced) incenſed at the ſeizure of ſome of his dominions, made war; and they ſoon ſtripped him of all. The long train of miſeries attendant on war, the ghaſtly crowd of horrors, all reeking from the pencils of perverſe poets,—of Southey, Fawcett and of Merry, have been made to paſs in review, an hundred and an hundred times. The continual dropping of water will wear away ſtone. The brain of ignorance, teized with the endleſs repetition of theſe fantaſies, became impreſſed with them as oracles of truth, and really looked on war as murder and miſery in the abſtract. Swift, along the extended line of communication, ſhot like baneful and portentous meteors, all theſe degenerating efforts; their impreſſion is at this day every where felt.

A ſordid ſpirit, which has contributed unjuſtly to bring diſgrace on the mercantile character of our country, has alſo co-operated in retarding a vigorous hoſtility to the views of France. Amidſt all the tricks of the great nation, notwithſtanding her role d'equipage, ſea letter, and other traps for our commerce, a few men had ſtill contrived to maintain a gainful trade with France, and her poſſeſſions;—theſe all join in the hue and cry againſt war, and effectively co-operate with the democrats, in enlarging on the bleſſings of peace.

It is time openly to proclaim the truth, that war is an evil only by compariſon, and that it is a contingency in the lot of nations, more dangerous to be ſhunned than fought.

E.

TO THE

Promoters of Literature.

THE managers of the Beula Seminary, impelled by motives of pure morality, having reſolved to diſpoſe of the following property by way of LOTTERY, in order to aſſiſt them in erecting a convenient building for the accommodation of one hundred ſtudents, and the neceſſary profeſſors in the different departments of ſcience—do offer for ſale three hundred and fifty lots in BEULA, each fifty-eight feet by one hundred and twenty-five, at twenty dollars per ticket, each ticket entitled to a lot to be determined by ballot; ten dollars to be paid on receipt of the ticket, and the remaining ten on the delivery of the deed. The ballot to take place before impartial men, as ſoon as the whole number of tickets are ſold.

The managers, anticipating the difficulty of obtaining caſh for the whole, have reſolved to receive an equivalent, for ſome of the lots, in ſelect books; philoſophical apparatus, or in produce and materials for building, delivered on the ſpot.

It may be obſerved, that the value of prizes in this lottery will be more than double the amount of all the tickets; for 350 lots, would at their average eſtimation, produce at leaſt 15,750 dollars; whilſt, according to the preſent propoſals, the ſum obtained for them will be only 7,000 dollars.

Tickets may be had during this winter, of Morgan J. Rhees, preſident of the board of managers, no. 177, ſouth Second-ſtreet, Philadelphia; who will receive propoſals and plans for the erection of the building. It is intended to be of brick or ſtone; its ſituation on the ſummit of a gradual riſing eminence, commanding an extenſive proſpect of the ſurrounding country; an obſervatory to be on its top.

Land and out lots in the vicinity of the Town may be had on moderate terms by applying as above. Mechanics and laborers, of good morals will meet with encouragement.

COMMUNICATION.

AT a criſis ſo momentous as the preſent, it is the indiſpenſable duty of every native American Citizen, to be conſtantly on his watch-tower and endeavor by every poſſible circumſpection to detect the emiſſaries of a diſorganizing faction and expoſe them to the merited chaſtiſement of thoſe laws, made and promulgated for the general good. With this impreſſion in full force on my mind, I was called to make an excurſion a few days ago through the county of Montgomery, where, I was more and more convinced, of the neceſſity of the moſt energetic meaſures in government and promptitude in thoſe whoſe duty it is to enforce laws; from obſerving what I once ſuppoſed was confined within the city, the alarming extent and increaſing virulence of the United Iriſhmen.

Notwithſtanding many ſolemn proteſtations to the contrary, it is but too true, that this curſed upa has infected our atmoſphere alſo and poiſoned the current of life in many of our once worthy fellow countrymen—I was induced to inveſtigate the cauſe of this growing calamity, that if poſſible I might ſnatch one deluded citizen from this deſtructive influence.

First—It appears that in this county, as unfortunately in too many others within this ſtate, a great diſproportion of outcaſts from the French and Iriſh nations; but particularly of the latter, have unguardedly been admitted as ſettlers. Theſe, diſcovering ample ſcope for the diſplay of their diſorderly talents, have combined with certain Americans, who have ſold their birthright for a pottage and others, citizens by name; but nature abhors the unnatural reality; are conſtantly inveighing againſt the proceedings of our government, which on all occaſions they prevert, becauſe their wiſhes tend to the production of every ſpecies of confuſion.—Thus their firſt ſtep is to create a want of confidence in thoſe repreſentatives, whoſe talents muſt eventually prove the ſalvation of the nation; and this among thoſe whoſe deficiency in point of information, prevents them from diſcovering the dangerous tendency of ſuch ſuggeſtions.

Second—But the moſt oſtenſible reaſon I conceive to be owing to the great number of democrats who have been advanced to the office of magiſtrates, either through groſs inattention, or as is more than probable, through the particular favor of one, who, if really a friend to our conſtitution and conſtituted authorities, has a peculiar way of evincing it. Theſe magiſtrates, ſo far from diſcountenancing, in every inſtance make it a point to encourage that illiberality of ſentiment, which relates to men and meaſures; becauſe it is perfectly congenial to their own feelings.

From theſe cauſes the ſpirit of diſaffection is growing to an alarming degree.

Judge of the truth of the above from the following facts:

At the late election in this county, two judges, violent democrats, poſted on the bench in oppoſition to one honeſt, worthy ſervant of the public.

The clerk, a jacobin Frenchman, who has been keeping up his part of the farce for ſome time, by aſſuring the unſuſpecting that the Preſident was in too much haſte for war—that the French government as he called it, ſincerely deſired to be on the moſt friendly terms with us—of this he was fully informed by frequent letters from that country, particularly during the delay of Mr. Gerry. From this retailer of deception firſt originated the report among this people, that the directory had revoked the orders for capturing American veſſels—that many of their privateers were laid up, that an ambaſſador was to accompany Mr. Gerry for the purpoſe of accommodating all differences, and yet he does not heſitate to ſay, that we only are the aggreſſors. Thus you ſee we have one of the juggling liſt among us, who, though an alien may paſs ſuch cenſures on our adminiſtration as beſt ſuits his purpoſes, and that in the preſence of Iriſh democratic magiſtrates who not only ſuffer ſuch inſolence to go unpuniſhed, but countenances his vote at elections!!

Further—A candidate for a ſeat in the Houſe of Congreſs, has ſince the election acknowledged that his ſucceſs was owing to ingenuity—of what kind, we learn in part from one of your publications ſome weeks back; and now, that the judges, whoſe opinions predominated at the election, did actually ſuffer ſeveral to vote for this candidate, who were neither Americans nor citizens. This appears to be an age conſpicuous for ex-divines becoming political judges.

Further—A very full meeting of theſe diſcontented gentry was held on the 29th ult at the Inn of Mr. ——, for the purpoſe of appointing committees of conference agreeably to their nefarious conſtitution, which committes were to meet at the houſe of Mr. ——, on the 12th inſt. no doubt to make arrangements for communicating with the ſocieties of the ſame ſtamp in the city.

The moſt notorious character in the above group, is ſaid to be an Iriſhman, who, for a length of time, commanded a company of United Iriſhmen in his native country; but finding himſelf cloſely preſſed by the vigilance of authority, he abandoned his wife and Ireland for America in 1792 or 1793—Here diſcovering a wide field for the exerciſe of his ſavage principles, he commenced his career by refuſing to become an American citizen and aſſociating particularly with thoſe who have long viewed the regularity of our government with malevolence.

Since the promulgation of the alien bill (which I ſincerely wiſh had been paſſed ten years ago) this captain John, if you pleaſe, has been aſſiduouſly engaged in riding about the country, for the purpoſe of miſleading the people as to the true intent of this bill, the houſe tax, the ſtamp tax, and the ſedition bill. Having ſounded the alarm for rebellion, he was elected as the moſt proper perſon to ride in character of a courier, to notify and collect the members of the different committees—for you muſt know, ſuch is the authority veſted in the general body, that many are appointed who were not preſent; this is conſidered as the moſt effectual method of ſcaring a wavering or timid diſpoſition.

This champion of ſedition is attended generally by a very loquacious waiter (an apt fellow for a recruiting corporal in this buſineſs) many years older than himſelf and from the ſame country. This laſt has long ſince been placed upon honorable record by the legiſlature of Pennſylvania, and therefore conceives he may with ſome plauſibility make a ſecond attempt to ſtop the wheels of government.

But what ſhall we ſay of that man (an old man) who having faithfully diſcharged his duty to his country during the revolutionary war, now attaches himſelf to the meaſures of this infamous band? Who, that he may conceal his political apoſtacy from the zealous friends of adminiſtration, is conſtrained to have recourſe to that badge, which none but truly virtuous Americans ſhould wear! Who, to gratify private animoſity ſeeks public ruin, by becoming a ſpy for an army of foreign and domeſtic cut throats. Rare buſineſs for one upon whoſe head time has long ſince placed his mark!

But theſe government reformers, cloak their movements under the ſpecious pretext of communicating upon the ſubject of preparing a petition to be preſented to congreſs for the repeal of the laws before noticed. If this is their intention, why not admit others to their meeting, than thoſe who have evinced themſelves inimical to the preſent adminiſtration? Why aliens and ſeditious apoſtate Americans only?

Why appoint thoſe for their committeemen, whoſe views tend to the deſtruction of public tranquility? Why not others, for even in Nazareth ſome good may be found.

Wherefore ſend a man to imbody their committees, whoſe irregular conduct in Ireland, obliged him to fly from merited juſtice and whoſe officious behaviour in this country, proves him unworthy the name of an American citizen; wherefore, but for motives which they dare not name.

PROPOSALS

BY BENJAMIN DAVIES,

For publiſhing by ſubſcription, a periodical work to be entitled The Philadelphia Magazine and Review; or, Monthly Repoſitory of Information and Amuſement.

AFTER the many fruitleſs attempts, which have been made to eſtabliſh a publication of this kind in Philadelphia, the propoſals now ſubmitted, will, perhaps, at firſt ſight, appear to be nothing more than ſoliciting diſappointment When, however, we obſerve an eager ſeaof after knowledge ſpreading through all parts in our country, and when we conſider, that, in theſe purſuits, Magazines and Reviews are of univerſally-admitted utility, we are led to believe, that former undertakings in this way have failed from ſome other cauſe than the want of diſcernment or liberality in thoſe, to whom the Editors looked up for ſupport.

From cauſes, which are too evident to need enumerating here, America is, and long muſt be beholden in a very conſiderable degree, to the preſſes of Great Britain. The literature of the two countries is, indeed, a ſort of common ſtock; but, for one publication of ours, we receive, at leaſt five hundred in return. While this is the caſe, it is extreme folly in the publiſher of a periodical work, to reject, from a ſort of ſpurious patriotiſm, all information, however uſeful, and all amuſement, however delightſome, merely becauſe it is not of native production. Obvious, however, as the juſtice of theſe remarks muſt appear we have very little doubt in our minds, that an obſtinate adherence to a contrary notion has been the principal cauſe of the want of ſucceſs, experienced by thoſe who have gone before us.

Reaſon and intereſt unite in dictating to us a different plan. The Miſcellaneous part, and principal part, therefore, of the Philadelphia Magazine, will conſiſt of choice ſelections from the neweſt publications of merit, that ſhall appear in Europe; but, particularly from the various periodical works publiſhed in Great-Britain, of which we have taken care to inſure the very earlieſt ſupply. At the ſame time, we truſt it is unneceſſary to ſay, that we ſhall always receive with pleaſure any original productions of genius, in verſe or proſe, of our own country; and we flatter ourſelves with the hope of being often favoured with the agreeable taſk of giving to ſuch productions merited praiſes and extenſive publicity.

In ſelecting and arranging theſe materials, to ſuit the various taſtes of our readers, we are ſenſible how difficult a taſk we have undertaken. To pleaſe all, we do not expect: it would be a vain preſumption. But we are reſolved to give offence to none, ſo far as conſiſts with the ſuperior reſpect we owe to the ſacred cauſe of religion, morality, and ſocial order. In theſe are involved the glory and welfare of our country, and they will always be the Polar-ſtar, that ſhall guide our labors.

The Miſcellany will be followed by a monthly Summary of News and politics, foreign as well as domeſtic; under which head will be compriſed a ſuccinct account of the Proceedings of the General and State Legiſlatures, and the titles, at leaſt, of all the laws they ſhall enact.

The next part of our undertaking, is a Review, of the principal works of note publiſhed in Great-Britain. For this we muſt neceſſarily have recourſe to the Reviews of that country. Though it will be impoſſible for us to furniſh as complete an analyſis as that from which we ſhall take our materials, we ſhall not fail to give ſuch an account of every publication reviewed in that country, as will convey to our readers information ſufficient to enable them to avail themſelves at a very early ſtage, of every valuable performance that ſhall appear. The advantages ariſing from ſuch information are evident. For want of it our profeſſional men and men of taſte are always kept a year or two in the rear of thoſe of Great-Britain. We do not hear of a work till a long time after it is publiſhed, and many very valuable ones we never hear of at all. All the various injuries and privations we ſuffer from this ſource will, we flatter ourſelves, be entirely done away by a ſteady adherence to our plan.

To that of foreign, will be added a Review of Domeſtic Publications; and here, we muſt confeſs, that we feel ſome diffidence, becauſe the execution of the taſk muſt depend, in a great meaſure, upon the abilities of ourſelves. However, with a firm reſolution to be guided by decency, candour and truth, and to take genius and virtue by the hand, whenever, and in whatever garb, we may find them; with no wiſh to wound the feelings of any but the wicked, and with the moſt ſincere deſire of ſeeing our countrymen ſhine in every department of literature, we doubt not, that we ſhall be able to acquit ourſelves to the ſatisfaction of all thoſe who have the good-nature fairly to appreciate our motives, and the juſtice to make allowance for human imperfections,

The work will cloſe with a monthly record of Marriages, Births, Deaths, Promotions, and other caſual incidents.

As to what concerns the politics of this country or of Europe, at this momentous period, we ſhall always view with jealouſy every meaſure of the French Government, and it's ever active emiſſaries; and if in this reſpect ſome men conſider us as partial or prejudiced, we ſhall ſubmit to their cenſure. For ſo full is our conviction that the war, which now deſolates Europe, and menaces this country, is a war of ambition and plunder, on the part of France, that nothing can induce us to conceal our ſentiments, or to withhold the ſmall aſſiſtance that we can contribute to oppoſe them. For this reaſon we intend to devote a page or two of every number to hiſtorical facts, anecdotes, and remarks on the Politics of France, from the age of Louis the Fourteenth to the preſent more alarming epoch. For more than a century paſt has that reſtleſs and ambitious people been like a volcano in the centre of Europe, diſturbing the ſurrounding States by its intrigues, and once in every eight or ten years overwhelming its moſt fertile countries with devaſtation and carnage.

Indeed it is more than eighteen hundred years ſince the great Roman Orator* thought it his duty to warn his countrymen againſt that conduct and thoſe principles, for which the preſent race of Gauls are as juſtly to be dreaded as their ſavage anceſtors; "Gallis fidem non habendam, hominibus levibus, perfidis, et in ipſos Deos immortales impiis."

By the proper management of this topic our countrymen will be able to ſee the real character of the nation, which they formerly conſidered as their friends, but now more juſtly execrate as their moſt dangerous enemies; and they will be better prepared to appreciate any overtures, that may be made hereafter, for the reſtoration of peace and amity

In the execution of this part of our deſign, particularly "we look with confidence for the ſupport and aſſiſtance of all perſons who ſhall conſider our motives as laudable, and therefore wiſh to contribute to the ſucceſs of our deſign;—of all who think, with us, that the preſs has been too long an engine of deſtruction, and that it ought, at length to be rendered a mean of preſervation, and an inſtrument of protection."

* CICERO.

"Literature, well or ill conducted, is the great "engine by which, I am fully perſuaded, all ci- "vilized States muſt ultimately be ſupported or "overthrown." Purſuits of Literature.

The CONDITIONS.

This work will be publiſhed in Monthly Numbers; and if a moderate encouragement is given the firſt number will appear on the firſt day of February next,

Each number will contain at leaſt Fifty pages of letter preſs, in octavo, under a blue cover. It will be printed on a fair and good paper; and, as ſoon as our liſt of Subſcribers will warrant the expence, every number will be embelliſhed with an elegant engraving.

The price to the Subſcribers will be twenty-five cents for each number, to be paid on delivery at ſome one of the places ſpecified below, where the ſubſcription has been received; and as ſoon as there are ſufficient to make a handſome volume, they will be bound together, for ſuch ſubſcribers as chooſe it, they paying the additional expence.

Subſcriptions will be received by Benjamin Davies at No. 68, High ſtreet, where the favours of all Correſpondents of which the poſtage has been paid, will be received, and duly attended to, as well as by all the principal Book-ſellers in the city; by George Hill, Bookſeller in Baltimore; and by Archibald Drummond, Book ſeller in New-York.

PRINTING WORK,
Of Every Kind,

EXECUTED AT THE SHORTEST NOTICE,

At the OFFICE of the GAZETTE of the UNITED STATES,

Oct. 13. dtf.

By this Day's Mail.

FROM DUBLIN PAPERS,
Received by the Draper, Collins, from Dublin, arrived at New-York.

DUBLIN, Nov. 10.

The following authentic intelligence appeared in a poſtcript of our laſt publication:

By advices from vice admiral Kingſmill, dated Cove, Nov. 1, it appears, that the Cæſar was ſafe arrived there, having carried away her foretop maſt, maintop maſt, gallant maſt, and foreſail, in a gale of wind, when on the point of engaging the four French frigates which had been in Killala Bay. The Cæſar, however, left the Terrible, of 74 guns, and the Melpomene, of 44, who were in ſuch a ſituation as to be certain of bringing the French to action, ſo that we have every reaſon to hope that the whole will be captured.

This accounts for the firing heard off Achill Head on the 28th of October."

It appears by the laſt Engliſh mail, that although every reaſonable probability exiſts of the truth of the current rumours of laſt week (the recovery of Malta, and the diſtreſs of Buonaparte) no intelligence in confirmation of circumſtances ſo much to be wiſhed, has yet been received in London.

The blockade of St. Elmo, the only fort in Malta, remaining in the poſſeſſion of the French—the utter impoſſibility of their receiving any reinforcement of relief by ſea, and the retreat of Buonaparte from Cairo to Roſetta, are authenticated facts, from which, with every reaſonable certainty, the truth of theſe reports may be poſitively inferred.

LONDON, Nov. 10.

Soon after our paper (Sun) was yeſterday put to preſs, we had occaſion to ſtop it, to announce from undoubted authority, that a very ſerious inſurrection had broken out at Brabant and Flanders. Private accounts, upon the authority of which we yeſterday ſtated the intereſting fact, add, that the inſurgents were ſtill in force to the number of 12,000.

The ſuſpenſion of all intercourſe between France and Holland, as well as this country, by the medium of cartels, has given riſe to an opinion, that ſome commotions have taken place at Paris. We thing this extremely likely to be the caſe.

ALEXANDRIA, January 27.

Extract of a Letter from a gentleman of reſpectability in Richmond to his friend in this Town, dated January 20 1799.

"Every day given more convincing proofs of the ſucceſs of Marſhall's Election; and it is ſaid that Mr. Henry will come into the Legiſlature, but I much doubt it.

"The legiſlature are about paſſing an appeal to the People, in the ſhape of an addreſs, fraught with the moſt direful ſentiments to the government of the United States. Times are alarming—civil diſſentions, if not actual civil war, may be expected. Nobody can miſtake the meaning of Taylor of Caroline. He is the prime mover, and is ſurrounded by thoſe who move pretty much as he directs——One week more, and all their projects will be out. A bill is ordered to be brought into the houſe, arraying the State Judges againſt thoſe of the United States, in caſes that may occur under the ſedition act, the avowed object of which is to ſet at liberty any perſon who ſhall be proſecuted under that act.

Taylor's reſolutions, which you have ſeen —Nicholas's ſubſtituted in place of thoſe propoſed by George K. Taylor—the appeal, or addreſs to the people—and the bill ordered to be brought in, will fill up the meaſure of hoſtility, on the part of this ſtate againſt the United States. The government of the United States muſt protect itſelf or yield to the force of Virginia. Such open hoſtilities cannot and muſt not be paſſed over in ſilence. Another project is before the houſe, for arming en maſſe all the militia of the Commonwealth—this is alſot he ſcheme of Taylor and his party—and who can doubt the object? It is not to prepare to defend the nation againſt a foreign foe, for this party boldly aſſert, that there is no ſuch danger to be apprehended. What then is the object? The reſolutions mentioned, acts contemplated, and the manifeſto to the people, are the beſt elucidations."

NORTH-CAROLINA

In the Houſe of Commons, December 24th, 1798. The general aſſembly of North-Carolina view with pain the alien and ſedition acts, paſſed at the laſt ſeſſion of the congreſs of the United States—they conſider thoſe acts not only as operating a violation of the principles of the conſtitution, but as being altogether improper and unneceſſary:

Therefore, reſolved, That the ſenators from this ſtate in the congreſs of the United States, be directed, and that the repreſentatives of the ſtate be requeſted, to uſe every endeavor in their power to cauſe that the above mentioned acts be repealed without delay.

Reſolved, That the Governor of the ſtate be requeſted to forward copies of the foregoing reſolutions by the earlieſt conveyance to the ſenators and repreſentatives of this ſtate in the congreſs of the United States.

For this reſolution 58, againſt it 21.

M. MATTHEWS, S. C.

By order,

J. HUNT, C. H. C.

The foregoing reſolution being read in the ſenate, it was moved by Mr. Riddick, that it be rejected. This being objected to, and the queſtion called for and taken—was carried in the affirmative. Whereupon the yeas and nays being required by Mr. Graves, ſeconded by Mr. M'Cain, are as follows, to wit.

For rejecting this reſolution—Meſſ. Alexander, Brittain, L. Bryan, F. Bryan, Creecy, Carney, Caldwell, Carpenter, Campbell, Groom, Edwards, Fulford, Freſhwater, Hall, Hines, H. W. Harrington, Johnſton, Irwin, Marſhall, M'Lean, Mayo, Martin, Maſters, Phifer, Phillips, Rhodes, Riddick, Smith, Torkſey, White, and Locke—31.

In favor of this reſolution—Meſſ. Arrington, Graves, Hill, Harvey, M'Cain, Ray, Salyer, Wyans, Willborn—9.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and
Gentlemen of the Houſe of Repreſentatives,

AN Edict of the Executive Directory of the French Republic of the twenty-ninth of October, 1798, incloſed in a letter from our miniſter plenipotentiary in London of the ſixteenth of November, is of ſo much importance, that it cannot be too ſoon communicated to you and the public.

JOHN ADAMS.

January 28, 1799.

Extract of a letter from Rufus King, Eſq. Miniſter Plenipotentiary of the United States at London, to the Secretary of State, dated November 16, 1798.

"The annexed Arreté would appear extravagant and incredible, if it proceeded from any other authority; but mankind is ſo accuſtomed to the violence and injuſtice of France, that we almoſt ceaſe to expreſs our ſurpriſe and indignation at the new inſtances that ſhe continues to diſplay."

ARRETE.

The Executive Directory, upon the report of the Miniſter of Foreign Relations, conſidering that the Fleets, Privateers, and Ships of England and Ruſſia are in part equipped by Foreigners.

Conſidering that this violation is a manifeſt abuſe of the rights of nations, and that the powers of Europe have not taken any meaſures to prohibit it. Decrees,

1ſt. Every individual, native (ou originaire) of friendly countries, allied to the French republic or neutral, bearing a commiſſion, granted by the enemies of France, or making part of the crews of ſhips of war and others, enemies, ſhall be by this ſingle fact declared a Pirate, and treaeed as ſuch, without being permitted in any caſe to alledge that he had been forced into ſuch ſervice, by violence, threats or otherwiſe.

2d. The Executive Directories of the Batavian, Ligurian, Ciſalpine and Roman Republics ſhall be inſtructed to this effect.

3d. The proviſions contained in the firſt article ſhall be notified to thoſe powers which are neutral or allied to the French republic.

4th. The Miniſter of Exterior Relations is charged with the execution of the preſent Arreté which ſhall be printed in the Bulletin of the laws.

MR. FENNO,

The following is a copy of a paragraph acknowledged to have been received by the Editor of the Aurora, but refuſed to be publiſhed.

To the Editor of the Aurora.

Pleaſe to inform the public that ſundry late paragraphs in your paper, ſtigmatizing the people, clergy and government of Connecticut; and particularly one of this morning, under the head of Connecticut Ariſtocracy, are attributable to Parſon Ogden. He is a native of Jerſey; but as well known in the eaſtern ſtates, as the cranes at Caſtle William, John Clark at Simſbury mines, or Joſeph Plaintain at the State Priſon of New-York. He is now in this city upon the only miſſion he was ever fit for; the bearer of a petition in favor of the Vermont Spitter. I forbear to ſay more, leſt I ſhould treſpaſs upon a portion of your paper devoted to ſome precious eulogy upon Dr. Logan, or more precious ſlander upon the Preſident and Government.

AMERICAN GALLANTRY.

An armed ſchooner of Briſtol, (R. I.) commanded by captain Littlefield, on the entrance to Havanna, off the Moro Caſtle, was attacked by a French privateer of 8 guns and 80 men; and after a battle which laſted for three glaſſes, the privateer was diſmaſted, and had eight or ten men killed; but the American ſchooner afterwards arrived at the Havanna with but little damage, and no loſs of men.

The above ſchooner is called the Chance of Briſtol, is 79 tons burthen, mounted with 4 three and 2 two pound guns, and having a crew of 13 men, including officers.

The Surgeon of the Monarch is remarkable for recommending the uſe of ſea water for the complaints of the crew. Some time ſince admiral Onſlow and his officers dined together at Yarmouth, to celebrate the victory of the 11th October. The day was ſpent in gaiety, and the party ſeparated with a large portion of wine on board, the Surgeon in particular was groggy; he ſtaggered to the jetty, but while waiting the arrival of the boat which was to take him off, he loſt his equilibrium, and ſouſed into the ſea.—One of the crew who ſtood behind Sir R. Onſlow, inſtantly tapped the admiral on the ſhoulder, ſaying, "Your honor, d——n my eyes but the Doctor has tumbled into his medicine cheſt."

WHEREAS,

BY an Act of Congress passed on the sixteenth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety eight, the President of the United States is authorised to borrow on behalf of the United States from the Bank of the United States, or from any other body or bodies politic or corporate, or from any person or persons, and upon such terms and conditions as he shall judge most advantageous for the United States, a sum not exceeding five millions of dollars, so however, that no contract or engagement be made which shall preclude the United States from reimbursing any sum or sums borrowed at any time after the expiration of fifteen years from the date of such loan. And whereas, it is declared by the said Act, that so much as may be necessary of the surplus of the duties on Imports and Tonnage beyond the permanent appropriations heretofore charged upon them by law, shall be pledged and appropriated for paying the interest, and also for paying and discharging the principal sum or sums of all the monies which may be borrowed, according to the term or terms which may be fixed, pursuant to the authority aforesaid—And whereas by the said Act, the faith of the United States is pledged to establish sufficient permanent Revenues for making up any deficiency that may hereafter appear in the provisions before-mentioned for paying the interest and principal sums, or either of them, of any monies which may be borrowed pursuant to the said Act. And whereas the President of the United States did by an Act or Commission under his hand dated the ninth day of January in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety nine, authorise and empower, the Secretary of the Treasury, to borrow on behalf of the United States, any sum not exceeding in the whole, five millions of dollars and to make such contract or contracts as should be necessary, and for the interest of the United States, in pursuance of the Act of Congress above recited.

Now therefore, the undersigned, Secretary of the Treasury, in pursuance of the Act of Congress, and the authority from the President of the United States, above mentioned, doth hereby on behalf of the United States of America, contract and engage in manner following, to wit.

1st. A book for receiving subscriptions to a Loan of five millions of dollars for the use of the United States shall be opened in the city of Philadelphia, at the Bank of the United States on Thursday the twenty eighth day of February ensuing, which book shall continue open for the purpose of receiving subscriptions, until the whole of the said five millions of dollars shall be subscribed. If more than five millions of dollars shall be subscribed on the first day of opening the said loan, the surplus shall be deducted in proportion to the sums subscribed by individuals, exceeding four thousand dollars.

2d. For every hundred dollars which may be subscribed there shall be forthwith deposited and paid the sum of twelve dollars and fifty cents, and like payments of twelve dollars and fifty cents, shall be made within the first ten days of the months of April, May, June, July, August September and October ensuing. The Secretary of the Treasury however reserves the right of reducing the number of instalments by special agreements, with the individuals who may become subscribers.

3d. On the failure of payment of any instalment of the sums subscribed according to the tenor of the second article, the next preceeding instalment of twelve dollars and fifty cents, which shall have been paid, for every hundred dollars subscribed shall be forfeited to the United States.

4th, The sums subscribed shall and may be paid to the credit of the United States, at the Bank of the United States, or at the offices of discount and deposit of the said Bank at Boston, New-York, Baltimore, or Charleston, or at either of the Banks of Salem, in Massachusetts, Newport and Providence in Rhode-Island, Hartford in Connecticut, Albany in New-York, or Alexandria in Virginia, for which payments, the receipts of the Cashiers of the Offices of Discount and Deposit and of the Banks aforesaid shall be received at the Bank of the United States as equivalent to money; but no payment of a subsequent instalment shall be received at any other place than that where the first instalment was paid, except at the Bank of the United States; in case any deposits shall be made at the offices of Discount or Deposit, or at either of the Banks aforesaid, which shall not be applied to the payment of the first instalment of subscriptions to the Loan aforesaid, the said deposits shall be forthwith refunded by directions from the Treasury.

5th. For the sums or number of shares of one hundred dollars, which may be subscribed, certificates shall be given by the Cashier of the Bank of the United States, which shall be assignable by indorsement, and delivery of the parties in whose favour the said certificates may be issued, until the completion of the payments required by the tenor of the second article preceeding.

6th. The sums subscribed and paid in pursuance of the tenor of the second article preceeding, shall after the said payments have been compleated, constitute a funded capital stock divisible into shares of one hundred dollars each, which capital stock shall bear interest at the rate of eight per centum per annum from the times fixed for the payment of the respective instalments payable quarter yearly at the Treasury of the United States, or at the Loan Offices where the same may stand credited, until the last day of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eight.

7th. After the last day of December in the said year one thousand eight hundred and eight, and after reasonable notice to the creditors, which shall be given by an advertisement in some public newspaper, printed at the seat of the government of the United States, the said capital stock shall be redeemable at the pleasure of the United States by the reimbursement of the whole sum or sums borrowed, and which may constitute the said capital stock either at the treasury of the United States or at the loan offices where the same may stand credited.

8th. The credits for the said capital stock shall and may be separately certified in sums either for one hundred, four hundred, one thousand, four thousand or ten thousand dollars, and the credits so certified shall be transferable by the creditors, or their attornies, at the Treasury and Loan Offices respectively, in pursuance of the rules which have been, or which may be established relative to the transfer of the funded stock of the United States,

9th. A sufficient sum of the surplus of the duties on Imports and Tonnage beyond the permanent appropriations heretofore charged upon them by law, together with the faith of the United States are hereby pledged for the fulfillment of this contract, in pursuance of, and according to the terms and conditions of the act of Congress herein before recited.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Treasury of the United States at Philadelphia, this twelfth day of January one thousand seven hundred and ninety nine.

Patent Ploughs,

TO be sold for cash by Joseph Salter at Atsion Richard Wells, Cooper's Ferry—Jonathan Harker, Woodbury—and Jesse Evans, Lumberton. Those who have used them give them the preference to any other kind, as they require less team, break the ground better, are kept in order at less expence and are sold at a cheaper rate—the plan is much simplified and consists of but one piece of cast iron, with the handles and beam of wood; they may be fixed with wrought lays and coulters to be put on with screws and taken off at pleasure.

Patent rights for vending with instructions for making them may be had by applying to John Newbold, or the subscriber No. 212 North Front-street.

IT is perhaps futile to expect to work conviction in the minds of so inveterate and vicious a class of men, as the Democrats of America, by any arguments however forcible, or any display of truth, however irresistible: These writings are, however, calculated to produce a more important and useful effect, by placing the subject in its true light before honest men, who are uninformed, or have been misinformed as to the nature and objects of those bills.
